Dedicated to the KING's most Excellent Majesty

By WILLIAM SALMON, M.D. Living
by Black-Friars Stairs, L O N D O N.

L O N D O N,

Printed by W. Horton for the Company of Stationers, 1698.

I. The sixth Column on the Ropes and Pikes shews every day in the year, how many minutes and seconds a pendulum Clock or Watch goes too fast, or too slow. Example. On the 10 of March, the Pendulum will go 7 m. 26". too fast; On the 10 of May 4 m. 5". too slow. But then the Clock, &c. is to be set Exactly to the true time, on the 4 of April, or 6 June, or 21 August, or 13. December; because on those days the Equation is just nothing.

II. Under Sun rising and setting, the minutes are in the middle: Example, On the 10 of January you find 7 50 5, which shews the Sun rises 50 min. after 7 in the Morning, and sets 50 min. before 5 at Night.

III. In the Column of the length of days and nights against the 6th of March, you find 11 36 13, which shews the day is 11 h. 36 min. long (and the night 13 h. wanting 36 m.

IV. To find the Ho. of the M^{oon} by the shadow of the moon on a Sun-dial, add the Hours and min. of the Moons Setting to the time of the shadow on the Dial, the Sum (abating 12 H. where it may be) is the true time of the Night.

To WILLIAM the Great,
KING of England, &c.

Great SIR,

THo' it has pleas'd th' Almighty power to bless
And Crown your Glorious Actions with success:
Tho' Justice to the Earth's return'd again,
Under the shades of your Auspicious Reign:
Tho' by your Sword alone you Peace have made,
And frighted him who Nations did invade:
Tho' all your Adversaries bow the knee,
Submit and vail in their sublime degree:
Tho' mighty Monarchs make their humble court,
And for their future Peace to you resort:
Tho' thus your word's a Law to mighty Kings,
And none resist 'mongst more inferior things:
Tho' th' mighty of the Earth in vain did strive,
And your sharp Sword did both affright and drive:
Yet 'twas not Sword nor Bow which forc'd your way,
But him whose word the Heav'nly hosts obey.
'Twas not the aids which helpless Arms could bring,
Did fix your Throne, nor make you Britain's King:
But Israel's God, upon whose name you call,
'Twas he that did the work, 'twas he did all.

Since you the Palm of Peace to Europe bear,
And make your Triumphs 'midst the fear of War:
Peace courts your Throne, you on the lofty ride,
Your Peoples Glory, and the Nations pride.
Your foes shall prostrate at your foot-stool lie,
And at th' approach of Peace with envy die.

Since your renown spreads on the wings of fame,
Boundless as Heav'n shall be your mighty name.
With Pious Hymns, and in immortal lays,
Th' unborn shall sing your never dying praise.

Amongst your Devotees who service pay,
Your humble suppliant implores a day.
Nor of the great and mighty whom you trust,
Shall any be more faithful or more just.
Intreats your gentle smiles, and tho' the least,
You would accept him in your Royal breast.

And on his humble Knees he daily prays:
You may be blest with Peace and length of days.
He begs the Powers above that they would bless,
And always Crown your Actions with success.

*These are the Prayers, these the desires of your Majesties most faithful
and humble Subject and Servant,*

ADVERTISEMENTS.

1. This is to signify that the third Edition of our Synopsis Medicinæ is the most Compleat piece of both Theoretical and Practical Medicine or Physick this day extant in the World, in any Language whatsoever; and that in the Latin Tongue it self, there is not extant such a Compleat Compendium of that Art; so that I perswade my self it is worthy the Reading and perusal of all the Lovers and practisiers of Physick.

2. That our Ars Chirurgica, now delivered from the Press, is the most Compleat System of Chirurgery, yet made publick to the World, wherein that Art is handled in all its parts, which though not so largely as it should be, yet not so briefly, but that it is able to instruct any Young Chirurgeon in all things necessary to the knowledge of that Theory and practice, without any other Author.

3. That our Pharmacopœia Bateana, is a summary of the Choicest Medicaments both Gallicical and Chymical, wherein we have explicated every process at large, and given a rationale upon every Medicament, compleating the same for Universal Practice, and is the only thing extant of that kind.

The Virtues and Uses of the T R U E B A L S A M de Chili.

1. It is without doubt the most precious of all Natural Balsams, by reason of its Specifick properties, and admirable Odor, excelling all others even the most fragrant, curing many inveterate and supposed incurable Diseases.

2. It eases all pains in any part of the Body coming of Cold or Wind, chiefly pains of the Stomach, Comforting and Strengthening it, after a wonderful manner: it Cures Ulcers of the Breast and Lungs, Reins, Bladder, or Womb, Inward Bruises, Spitting Blood, Shortness of Breath, Coughs, Colds, Asthma's, Wheezings, Hoarseness, and other Diseases of those Parts.

3. It heals all manner of Green Wounds, old running Sores, Rotten Ulcers, Fistula's, in any part of the Body;—as also Punctures and other hurts of the Nerves and Tendons; Aches, Pains, Lameness, Weakness of the Limbs or Joynts, being dropt into the Wound or Puncture, or otherwise applyed thereupon, with a Tent, Linnen, or Leather, &c. and so bound up and not stirred in 24. Hours, it commonly Cures Wounds at Two or Three times dressing, and sometimes at the first dressing, though they be deep, confused and large.

4. It dissolves Gravel and Stoney Concretions, in the Reins, Ureters, and Bladder, and expels Sand, Shime, and other things, which obstruct the Urine or stop up its passages, for which purposes there is scarcely a better Medicine.

5. It eases all Collick pains, Gripings, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, and Cures all Fluxes, Bloody Fluxes, Excoriations, and other Distempers of the Guts: it helps Barrenness, promotes Conception, causes easie and speedy Delivery to Women in Travail, taking away, and preventing after-pains.

6. It is good against the Falling Sickness, Apoplexy, Convulsions, Lethargy, old Head Aches, Megrims, Vertigo, and most Cold and moist Diseases of the Head, Brain, Nerves and Womb, Strengthening the Brain, Comforting the Memory, and fortifying all the Senses both Internal and External; being taken inwardly, as after directed, and outwardly Anointed upon the place: a Drop or Two put into the Ears, helps thickness of Hearing, pain and noise to a Wonder.

7. It is an assured Remedy to Cure the Palsie, (if not inveterate) as also Tremblings; and Gouts of all sorts in any part; Weakness of the Nerves and Joynts, coming of a cold and moist cause, taking it inwardly, and anointing the parts outwardly therewith Morning and Evening for some time. It is one of the greatest Medicines that is, for the Cure of the Palsie and Gout, it transcending all other Medicaments whatsoever.

8. The Dose is from half a Dram to a Dram and half or more; or from 10 Drops to 30 or 40 Morning and Evening. The way of taking it is thus; Grind the quantity you take with a little of the Yolk of an Egg and Sugar, very well to open its Body: this done, mix it with a draught of White Wine, Mead, Ale, Beer, or posset-drink, (which the patient best likes) and so let them drink it.

The True Balsam de Chili, is only to be had at the Author's House, by Black-Friars Stairs, LONDON. Price 24 Shillings the pound, or 18 pence the Ounce.

*Te sprightly muses rouse, fill full my sails,
With hopeful Winds, and Joves auspicious gales.
My scudding Vessel and weak Oars befriend,
Be kind once more, and your assistance lend.
Secure my Bark from Neptune's Jaws I'mpleore,
And bring me safe to the Britannick shore.*

O'erwhelm'd with Blood, the Kingdoms once did lie,
And through their wretched sides sharp Arrows fly.
Nor did this rage in one place simply reign,
It reach'd not our Land only but the Main.
Britain the seat, the center of these ills;
Rage, force, and blood, her verdant places fills.

Unhappy Land, can Tongue or Pen relate,
 Or can one scene present thy wretched Fate?
 What yet was done, was furthest to th' design;
 Three Kingdoms they propos'd to undermine.
 Blow up its vast foundations, and o'er turn
 With Seas of Blood; disturb the sable urn.

How cam't to pass, that we the false did trust,
And bow'd so long obscurely in the dust?
And with our strength so fondly should retire,
And nothing but inglorious shades admire?
Look on and see the Enemy increase,
And careless thus lie in our Beds of Peace?

July

July hath xxxi days.

How these things came to pass, 'tis hard to tell;
 By Syren's Charms, the English glory fell.
 Our Laws and Lives subjected to their fate,
 And we became the subjects of their hate.
 Their Lusts and follies only rul'd their will;
 And those whom we care'st d, our Blood did spill.

August hath xxi days.

The mighty Prince, the Pious Nassaw stood,
And as amaz'd, beheld this scene of blood.
Shall we, says he, look on, and nothing do?
Shall we behold and see the fatal blow?
No! they shall ne'er from us unpunish'd go,
But fall as Victims by our shaft and bow.

The Tyrants force in dust, I'll prostrate lay,
And mix their vainer hopes with humble clay.
Their wickedness in Earth shall buried be,
And opposites promiseously agree.
Through Joves great power I thus my way will make,
And the Brass chains of Tyranny will break.

November hath xxx days.

I'll dare it all, the utmost toil endure,
And though I late revenge, yet I'll be sure,
Their League with Hell I'll disannul and smite
The rebel crew into eternal night.
My Sword is drawn, nor shall it e'er be sheath'd,
Till Britain's head's with Peaceful Laurels wreath'd.

*This Sir you've done, and more than all you said :
The Trumpets found, and noise of guns you've laid.
The Sword may rust and in its scabbard lie,
The Valiant Soldier now in Peace may die.
In Peace profound, may you these Nations keep,
And you the fruit of all your Travels reap.*

An ADVERTISEMENT.

WHereas one John Hollier Publishes and pretends to Sell Salmon's Family Pills, under that Name, Effigies and Seal, in many Places of this Kingdom for 12 Pence a BOX: This is to give Notice to all Persons whatsoever, That he assumes my Name, Effigies and Seal, doing it without my Privilege, Allowance, Order or Consens (to my great Prejudice and Damages) And that I who am the Author of the said Family Pills, have also made several Alterations and Improvements of the Medicine for the advantage thereof, of which Hollier knows nothing neither as to the Names, Numbers or Natures of the things added or altered; the Preparation, Parts or Proportion of any thing contained therein. By reason of which Alterations, they neither Vomit nor make Sick, or grieve the Bowels in the least; but work more nimbly and pleasantly than formerly, and without any the least danger, being fitted against the most Stubborn and rebellious Diseases, which no other Remedy can cure or help. So that I modestly affirm, That one BOX of these Pills, thus improved and advanced in Virtue and Goodness, are worth five BOXES (for all that I know Ten) of those which Hollier or any else make and sell without my Order in my Name. They are now to be had thus rightly prepared at my House, by Black-Friars Stairs, London. Where all such as desire to have or sell them, or my Family Poudre, (of which Hollier knows nothing at all) may have them (the Pills at 12 d. a BOX, the Poudre at 6 d. a Paper.)

The World is also desired to remember, That the Advertisement which Hollier, or some of his Accomplices, has put at the end of one of my late published Books, Entitled, Select Physick, and Chyrurgical Observations, Printed for Thomas Passenger, on London-Bridge, (whilst I was absent in the West-Indies) is a base, unworthy, and malicious Libel, designedly done to wrong and abuse the Author, and to my very great Prejudice; for that I left large quantities of all sorts of my Medicines with my Wife, to be sold in my absence: nor did I ever give Hollier, or any else Leave, Order, or Directions to do the same, much less to publish that Malicious Advertisement.

I should have been so free as to have declared to the World the present Composition of my Family Pills, as also of my Family Poudre, had I not met with such hard measure, and such an unjust and unworthy Treatment as aforesaid, and therefore humbly beg Excuse of the Publick for this concealment for a Season, till the Villainy of ill Persons shall cease; nor doubting, but as there is a time for all things, so a time may come for this their Publication.

The By-Laws of the College of Physicians London, with a Catalogue of all the Doctors of Physick which have come forth from Oxford and Cambridge, from 1659. to 1696, and after what manner they came forth: Sold at the Printing-Press by the Royal-Exchange in Cornhill.

THE
LONDON Almanack,
For the Year 1698.

By WILLIAM SALMON, M. D.

I. Of the Eclipses this Year, &c.

1. THere will happen two Eclipses of the greater Luminary; but the one will be before the Sun's Apogee; the other after it; so that there can be no full Moon Eclipse in all the Year.

2. The first Eclipse will happen on 31. March, about the time of Sun-setting; for which reason it will not be seen of us: Yet it will be a very great Eclipse, for that a considerable part of the Sun's Body will be darkned; and withal, it is to be observed, That it is in or near that Place which was the Sun's Original Exaltation in the Year of the World's Creation, and near to the Square of his present Exaltation, which shews the Depression of some mighty Men, and an Eclipsing of their Glory.

3. The second Eclipse of the Sun will be on 24th. September, about three or something past in the Morning, in ≈ 126 . This will be a very great Eclipse also, but not to be seen of us, the Sun being then below our Horizon, and therefore we shall speak no more of it here.

4. A famous Conjunction of Jupiter and Mars will also happen this Year, on the 29. August, in $\text{M } 220$. which will not pass without eminent Effects, to all such as have that Point either Ascending or Culminating; and where Mars is Lord of the Ascendent or Tenth, it will be the Prodromos of very much good to those Natives.

1. This Table shews the Golden-Number for any Number of Years, from the first Year of our Lord to 2014: The singular Years of each Century are contained in the first six Columns; the Golden Numbers answering, are contained in the other 20 Columns.

2. That Column under [0] shews the Golden-Number for the first Century of Years after Christ; where finding the respective Year in one of the first six Columns, right against it, under [0] you have the Golden Number answering.

3. For any other Year after the first Century, find the number of Hundreds in the uppermost Line, or in the top of the Table, and the other odd Years in one of the first six Columns; and right against the same, in the common Angle of meeting, under the number of Hundreds, you will have the Golden-Number for the Year proposed.

III. To find the Dominical Letter.

1. The following Table shews you the Dominical Letter for any number of years, from the first year of our Lord to 2112. The singular years of each Century, are contained in the first four Columns, and the Dominical Letter or Letters answering, in one of the other seven Columns.

2. Find the Number of Hundreds amongst some of the Numbers in the top of the Table, and the other odd years, in one of the other four first Columns; and right against the same, in the common Angle of meeting, under the Number of Hundreds, you have the Dominical Letter or Letters for the year propos'd.

3. Verbi Gratia. This year 1698. the Dominical Letter is B. I first find 16 the Number of Hundreds on the top of the Table, and 98 in one of the first 4 Columns, viz. in the 4th. and right against it in the common Angle under [16] I find B the Letter answering.

IV. To find what Day of the Week any Month begins withal.

	Jan.	Feb.	Mar.	Apr.	May	June	July	Aug.	Sept.	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.
A	☉	☿	♂	♂	☾	♂	☿	☿	☿	☉	♂	♂
B	♂	☿	♂	☉	☉	☿	☿	☿	☿	☉	♂	♂
C	☉	☿	☿	☉	☉	☿	☿	☿	☿	☉	♂	♂
D	♂	☉	☉	♂	☉	☿	☿	☿	☿	☉	☉	♂
E	☿	☿	☿	☉	☉	☿	☿	☿	☿	☉	☉	☉
F	☿	☿	☿	☉	☉	☿	☿	☿	☿	☉	☉	☉
G	☿	☿	☿	☉	☉	☿	☿	☿	☿	☉	☉	☉

1. Find by the former Table the Dominical Letter of the Year, and right against it, under the Month for which you desire you will find the day of the Week answering.

2. Where note, That ☉ signifies Sunday, ☾ Monday, ♂ Tuesday, ♀ Wednesday, ♀ Thursday, ♀ Friday, and ♀ Saturday.

3. Exempli Gratia. The Dominical Letter is this Year B. I desire to know the day of the Week June begins withal: look in the Table, and against B under June, you will find ♀, which shews you that the first of June begins with Wednesday.

V. By a short Table to find out the Day of the Month.

☉	☿	♂	♂	☉	☉	♂	1	8	15	22	29
☿	♂	♂	☉	☉	☉	☉	2	9	16	23	30
♂	♂	☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	3	10	17	24	31
♂	☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	4	11	18	25
☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	5	12	19	26
☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	6	13	20	27
☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	☉	7	14	21	28

1. Find by the former Table with what day the Month begins, whether it be with ☉, ☾, ♂, ♀, ♀, ♀, or ♀: which find in the first part of this Table on the top: And against it, on the second part of the Table you find 1. 8. 15. 22. 29. which are all the same days of the Weeks.

2. Thus if the Month begins with ♀ Wednesday, the 1. 8. 15. 22. and 29 are all Wednesdays.

3. Then under ♀ in the first part of the Table you find ♀, ♀, ☉, ☉, ♂, ♀, answers to 2. 9. 16. 23. 30. in the second part of the Table, which shews that all those Days are Thursdays. ♀ answers to 3. 10. 17. 24. 31. which shews that all those days are Fridays: The like understand of the rest; and the same also with what day of the Week soever any Month begins.

1. This Table shews the Cycle or Circle of the Sun for any Number of Years under 100. The singular years of each Century are contained in the first four Columns, the Number of the Cycle answering in one of the other seven Columns.

The London ALMANACK, 1698.

2. Find the Number of Hundreds, among the Numbers on the top of the Table; and the other odd years (if any) in one of the first four Columns on the left hand, and right against the same, in the common Angle of meeting under the Number of Hundreds, you have the Cycle or Circle of the Sun desired.

3. Verbi Gratia, This Year 1698. I desire the Cycle or Circle of the Sun, I find first 16 on the top of the Table, and 98 in one of the first four Columns; right against which, under [16] I find 27, which is the true Number desired.

IX. To find the Epact

1. There being some Defects and Mistakes in the Print of the Table of Epacts in the last year's Almanack, we knew no better way of rectifying of it, but by giving you a new Table in this.

2. Find the Golden Number in the first Column of the Table under G. N. and the Number answering against it, is the true Epact belonging to the same Year the Golden Number is adapted to.

3. If it is a Leap-year, One is to be added to the Epact, because one day in that Year is added to the Month; and therefore you are to take the Number against the Letter L.

X. To find the Roman Indiction.

The following Table shews the Roman Indiction from the first Year of our Lord to the Year 2400. The singular Years of each Century (if any be) you must find in the first Column on the left hand; right against which, in one of the three other Columns you will find the Number of the Roman Indiction.

2. You

The London ALMANACK, 1698.

2 You are therefore to find the Hundreds among some of the Numbers on the top of the Table, and the remaining Years in one of the four first Columns on the right hand; and in the common Angle of meeting, you will find the Indiction desired.

3. Exempli Gratia. I desire the Indiction for this present Year 1698. first find [16] among the Numbers on the top of the Table: And 98. in one of the four Columns on the left-hand, viz. in the 4th. Then against the same, in the Column under [16] you have 6. and that is the Number of the Indiction for this present Year.

XI. To find Easter-Day for ever.

1. The following Table shews you, by having the Golden-Number and the Dominical Letter, to find Easter-day for ever: First find the Golden-Number in the first Column on the right hand, and the Dominical Letter on the top, and in the common Angle of meeting, you have the Month and Day in which Easter falls.

2. This Table is also of use to prove the Truth of Table VI. aforegoing; and by the same you may prove the Truth of the Operation and Table in No. VIII. of my last Year's Almanack.

XI. A Table to find Easter-Day for ever.

XII. By the Cycle of the Sun to find out what Day of the Week any Month begins withal, as also the Dominical Letter of the Year.

1. Find by Tab. VIII. aforegoing, the Cycle of the Sun for the Year of our Lord proposed; and then find that Cycle or Circle in the following Table, in the first Column on the left hand; and right against it you have the Dominical Letter or Letters for the Year proposed, and right against the same under every Month, the true Day of the Week the same Month begins withal.

2. Exempli Gratia. This Year 1698, I find by the foregoing Table VIII. the Cycle of the Sun to be 27. against which in this Table, you will find the Dominical Letter to be B. and the 1. of Jan. to be Saturday, 1. Feb. Tuesday, 1. Mar. Tuesday 1. Apr. Saturday, &c. as the Characters there express.

3. This Table may be of Use, to prove the Truth of Table III. and IV. aforegoing; also by this Table, with the Help of Table V. aforegoing, you may be able to find what Day of the Week any Day of any Month is, in any Year of our Lord, past, present, or to come, for ever; by observing the Rules there given.

4. Verbi Gratia. What Day of the Week is the 17. of August this present Year. The Cycle of the Sun is 27. against which, under August, you find D, which shews the Month begins with Monday. Find D in the top of Tab. V. and find 17. in the Second part of the same Table; and right against the same on the left hand (under D on the top) you find Q, which shews that the 17. of August this Year, will be on a Wednesday.
